

Following a successful run of monthly shows in the second half of 2009, The Crimson Goat Cabaret Club has moved to a new venue and it aims to continue to give Melbourne audiences a wonderful night of comedy and variety just like they used to get in the 70's and 80's at places like The Flying Trapeze and The Last Laugh (in its original form).

Created by Jack Levi (Elliot Goblet) and Mitchell Faircloth (Slim Whittle), The Crimson Goat Cabaret Club features a regular stand up comedian MC plus four comedy flavoured cabaret/variety acts and it's held approximately monthly on a Sunday evening for most months of the year.

Shows are at the elegant and beautifully restored art deco venue "Ormond Hall" 557 St Kilda Rd (enter via Moubray St) Melbourne Vic 3004 and intended show dates for 2010 are:

March 14, May 2, June 6,
July 4, August 8, September 5,
October 3, November 7 and December 12.

Tickets are $26 (or $23 per person for groups of 8 or more).
Doors open at 6.30pm for a 7.30pm show with drinks and snacks very available.
